2023 Pi Sigma Epsilon National Convention Scholarship Recipients!
Future Leaders

Jack Dummer,
University of Wisconsin-Whitewater

Brian Mork,
Carthage College

Mackenzie Nichols,
University of Florida

Jana Stone,
Kent State University

Pictured: Brian Mork
Scholarship Recipients

3M Scholarship
This $1,000 scholarship recognizes a student who has consistently demonstrated strong leadership behaviors, has a strong academic record with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above, demonstrates high integrity, and is actively pursuing a career in sales.

Scholarship Winner: Taylor Moorman, Kansas State University

---

Apex Systems Scholarship
This $1,000 scholarship recognizes a student who intends to pursue a career in sales and demonstrates the four core values of every successful Apex Systems employee: will to win, do the right thing, make others better, and respect for all.

Scholarship Winner: Olivia Webb, Kent State University

---

Cintas Scholarship
This $1,500 scholarship is awarded to a student who intends to pursue a career in professional sales and who demonstrates leadership and personal integrity on campus.

Scholarship Winner: Kyleigh Golightly, Central Michigan University

---

Citrix Scholarship
This $1,000 scholarship is awarded to a student who intends to pursue a career in professional sales and who demonstrates leadership and personal integrity on campus.

Scholarship Winner: Paige Jaynes, Illinois State University
The Diamond Room Scholarship
This $1,500 scholarship is sponsored by The Diamond Room’s Managing Partner, Justin Shatto, Alumnus, University of South Dakota. It is awarded to a student who is a true servant leader to those around them and their community, that is continuously thinking outside of the box, and that is looking to pursue a career in sales.

Scholarship Winner: Jake Zirgibel,
University of Wisconsin - Whitewater

Enterprise Holdings Scholarship
This $1,500 scholarship is awarded to an individual who, like Enterprise founder Jack Taylor, embodies strong values, leadership skills, and an entrepreneurial spirit.

Scholarship Winner: Julia Teri,
Florida State University

Federated Insurance Scholarship
This $1,000 scholarship is awarded to a student who has continually demonstrated community, academic excellence, and involvement in their chapter.

Scholarship Winner: Sam Willkomm,
The Ohio State University

Keyence Corporation Scholarship
This $1,000 scholarship is awarded to a student that is heavily involved in a Pi Sigma Epsilon chapter that is interested in pursuing sales, preferably technical sales, as a full time career.

Scholarship Winner: Angelina DiCola,
Kent State University

Norris-Lindsay Leadership Development Scholarship
This $1,000 scholarship is awarded to a second or third-year student from a PSE chapter (Amethyst or Silver) to assist in attending the National Convention. This student has already demonstrated the pillars of PSE, and has a goal to be elected to a senior leadership position in his/her Chapter.

Scholarship Winner: Jake Moses,
Ohio University
Pella Scholarship
This $1,000 scholarship recognizes a student who demonstrates a commitment to bringing out the best in others and developing a positive chapter culture.

Scholarship Winner: Brett Bishop, University of Toledo

Rite-Hite Scholarship
This $1,000 scholarship recognizes a student who strives for truly great versus merely good performance.

Scholarship Winner: Grace Kim, University of Toledo

RR Donnelley Scholarship
This $1,000 scholarship recognizes a student who is committed to social responsibility and creating sustainable solutions with the lowest environmental impact.

Scholarship Winner: Abby Gridley, Western Colorado University

Southwestern Advantage Scholarship
This $1,000 scholarship is awarded to a student who has set themselves apart from the competition with a positive attitude for the future of younger generations.

Scholarship Winner: Trevor Minyo, Miami University

TForce Freight Scholarship
This $1,000 scholarship is awarded to a student who distinguishes themself by demonstrating a commitment to the TForce Freight core values of flexibility, transparency, ownership and empowerment.

Scholarship Winner: Jana Stone, Kent State University
This $1,500 scholarship is awarded by Vector Marketing to a student who has demonstrated a commitment to community service and intends to pursue a career in sales.

Scholarship Winner: Matthew Brown, Kent State University

Arno Karl Kleimenhagen Memorial Scholarship
Arno served as the National President for both Pi Sigma Epsilon and Mu Kappa Tau, as well as Vice President and National Secretary for the Pi Sigma Epsilon National Educational Foundation. He was recognized as Honorary Life Member, the highest form of recognition awarded by Pi Sigma Epsilon. This $1,000 scholarship honors his commitment to our fraternity.

Scholarship Winner: Audrey Millet, University of Florida

Trenton Haack Memorial Scholarship
Trenton passed away in 2008 leaving behind a long legacy with Pi Sigma Epsilon. He was a three-time recipient of the Top Alumni Advisor Award. He also served as the National Secretary on the Council and was slated to be the Pi Sigma Epsilon National President in 2010. This $1,000 scholarship honors his unwavering dedication to Pi Sigma Epsilon.

Scholarship Winner: Sophia Haack, University of Toledo

Debbie Khalil Memorial Scholarship
Debbie worked for our Headquarters as a Field Representative before her successful career in computer programming and systems management. She served several years as the Chairperson of the National Scholarship Program and as a member of the Foundation Board of Trustees. This $1,000 scholarship honors her unwavering dedication to Pi Sigma Epsilon.

Scholarship Winner: Macy Vance, University of Northern Iowa

UPS Scholarship
This $1,500 scholarship is in recognition of an aspiring leader in sales.

Scholarship Winner: Mark Paparella, Central Michigan University
Alumni Sponsored Scholarship

This $1,000 scholarship funded by the alumni of Pi Sigma Epsilon, is awarded to a student who best exemplifies the principles of Pi Sigma Epsilon and excels both academically and professionally. Additionally, the recipient is a lifetime member of Pi Sigma Epsilon and displays intentions of post-graduation involvement in the fraternity.

Scholarship Winner: Charlotte Thaler, Miami University

Brian J. Andersen Pro-Am Sell-a-Thon® Scholarship

This $1,000 scholarship is funded by the Pro-Am Sell-A-Thon® Committee, to be awarded to a student who the Pro-Am Sell-a-Thon® has had an impact on their life. The recipient has demonstrated the application of learning to improve themself and other chapter members. Student must have participated in Pro-Am Sell-a-Thon® in 2021 and/or 2022.

Scholarship Winner: Saige Warren, University of Toledo

Philia Scholarship

Named for the Greek word meaning ‘friendship’ by three individuals whose love of Pi Sigma Epsilon brought them together as lifelong friends. This $1,500 scholarship recognizes a student who embodies the Pi Sigma Epsilon spirit and founding principles, and is known both within their chapter and the organization to have a commitment and love for the brotherhood and future of the fraternity.

Scholarship Winner: Kylie Norman, Carthage College

Whan Memorial Scholarship

Dorothy (Jake) Whan established this scholarship in 1989 in the name of her late husband, Tony Whan. Jake’s substantial contribution has assured this scholarship to be given for many years. Tony was an advertising executive, a former president of Sales and Marketing Executives International, and a Professional Director of Pi Sigma Epsilon. This $1,500 scholarship is awarded with support from Mrs. Whan and Pi Sigma Epsilon alumni members in memory of Tony and in recognition of his avocation of marketing education.

Scholarship Winner: Jack Allen, Virginia Tech